

Article 7 of Decree Law 196/03 (Rights of access to personal data and other rights)

1. The party concerned has the right to obtain confirmation of the existence or not of his/her personal data, even if not yet recorded, and said information must be sent in an Intelligible manner.
2. The person concerned has the right to know
  - a) the origin of the personal data;
  - b) the aim and mode of its use;
  - c) the logic applied if processed using electronic instruments;
  - d) the Identity of the owner, the people responsible and the designated representative pursuant to Article 5, comma 2;
  - e) The parties or category of party to whom the personal data shall be sent or who may be acquainted with the data in the quality of designated representative with the State, people responsible for or entrusted to use the data.
3. The persons concerned has the right to know
  - a) when the data is updated, corrected or integrated;
  - b) when the data is unlawfully deleted, rendered anonymous or blocked, including data that does not need to be archived for the purpose for which it was collected, or subsequently used;
  - c) certification that the parties who receive the data are aware of operations mentioned in points a) and b) (and their contents), unless it is impossible to do so or if the means required to do so are obviously disproportionate compared to the safeguarded right.
4. The party concerned has the right to completely or in part raise objections:
  - a) for legitimate reason against the use of his/her personal data even though pertinent to the aim of the data collection;
  - b) the use of his or her personal data to send advertising or direct sales material or to carry out market or business communications.